

Job Title: Teacher of EconomicsThe Department

Economics is part of the Faculty of Social Science. The area is well resourced; A level teaching takes place in the modern Carville building where the spacious classrooms are equipped with interactive and audio-visual equipment. College-wide issues, including pastoral provision, as well as some general subject issues are dealt with at the faculty level. However, detailed subject development occurs within subject departments. Resources and ideas for teaching Economics lessons are shared within the department. In addition to teaching their subjects, members of staff may have other responsibilities including personal tutoring, admissions interviews and recreational activities.

The Economics department consists of eight teachers delivering the Edexcel Economics course at A level. The department aims to inspire and help equip our students with the skills and values needed to become responsible and engaged citizens, who are able to contribute to building a healthy, inclusive and sustainable world for all.

This year just under 700 students are studying Economics, many of whom are very able and highly motivated. The course is well-established and has maintained very good results over the years. The exam results for the department in 2025 and 2024 were as follows:

A level Economics results

	Pass Rate (A – E)	Grades (A* – C)
2025	99%	84%
2024	99%	86%

Specification

The teachers appointed should be graduates of Economics or of a closely related subject. In addition, candidates should show the following characteristics:

- an ability to transfer enthusiasm to students;
- strong organisational skills to manage administration within a large department;
- familiarity with contemporary issues in Economics teaching;
- proficiency in utilizing ICT for course delivery;
- effective teamwork and a willingness to share ideas and resources.

Simon Tredwell and Maritza Tucker, Heads of Economics

Fiona Webb, Director of Curriculum and Support

February 2026