

Job Title: Teacher of Business

We are looking for a full time permanent Teacher of Business, plus we have other opportunities for full or part time teachers on a temporary basis for maternity and similar cover.

The subject of Business is part of the Faculty of Sport and Social Science. Business comprises of AQA A Level Business, BTEC Business and Level 2 Cambridge Technical. We are a successful and growing department with over 700 learners and 13 committed teachers who teach across the range of courses.

Teaching takes place in spacious classrooms that are equipped with interactive and audio-visual equipment. We are a well-resourced department and we are passionate about creating high quality, engaging and innovative materials to enthuse our learners.

To create well-rounded, positive young people all teaching staff are required to contribute to pastoral care, extra-curricular activities and workshops.

We have high expectations of our students and teaching staff and we believe our results reflect these values:

The persons appointed to these posts should be graduates of Business or of a closely allied subject. The roles are suitable for either experienced or NQT teachers. Training and support is available for any Level 2 teachers who wish to broaden their experience to Level 3 teaching. She or he must be capable of contributing effectively to one or more of our courses. In addition, candidates should show the following characteristics:

- An enthusiastic approach to teaching and learning
- A commitment to raising standards and progress across the department
- A high level of organisation, capable of dealing with administration associated with a large department
- Innovative in the use of ICT in delivery of courses
- Familiar with contemporary issues in the teaching of Business
- An effective team member who is prepared to share ideas and resources.
- Undertake regular assessment and reviews of student progress. Record this progress, and complete assessment and reporting documentation in line with college policy
- A sympathetic and caring personal tutor

The posts offer good opportunities for career development in a highly successful Faculty, particularly for teachers keen to respond to the changing demands in the sector. The College organises and supports a range of professional development opportunities both within the college, and with outside organisations.

Salma Moosavi
Heads of A Level Business

Lauren Farrar
Head of BTEC Business

Jill Thomson
Head of Level 2 Business

September 2021

Job Title: Teacher of Economics

We are looking to recruit a member of staff on a temporary basis, for an unknown time. We will consider either part time or full time working.

The department

Economics is part of the Faculty of Social Science. The area is well resourced; A level teaching takes place in the modern Ashurst building where the spacious classrooms are equipped with interactive and audio-visual equipment. College-wide issues, including pastoral provision, as well as some general subject issues are dealt with at the faculty level. However, detailed subject development occurs within subject departments. Resources and ideas for teaching Economics lessons are shared within the department. In addition to teaching their subjects, members of staff may have other responsibilities including personal tutoring, admissions interviews and recreational activities.

The Economics department consists of seven teachers delivering the Edexcel Economics course to A-level. This year over 500 students studied Economics, many of whom are very able and highly motivated. The course is well-established and has maintained very good results in recent years. The exam results for the department in 2019 were as follows:

A-level Economics results 2019

Pass Rate (A – E)	High Grades (A* – B)
98%	68%

Specification

The person appointed to this post should be a graduate of Economics or of a closely allied subject. In addition, candidates should show the following characteristics:

- possess an ability to transfer enthusiasm to students;
- be a highly organised person, capable of dealing with administration associated with a large department;
- be familiar with contemporary issues in the teaching of Economics;
- be able to utilise ICT in the delivery of courses;
- be an effective team member who is prepared to share ideas and resources.

Simon Tredwell, Head of Economics

Fiona Webb, Director of Curriculum and Support

September 2021